New Discoveries
from America's Greatest Gem Mountain

The Owl Has Arrived in Portland

Silent. Still. Buried within the mountain for 300 million years, an owl with deep blue gems eyes stood sentry on the north wall gazing into the interior of a gem pocket, watching over a treasure trove of blue tourmaline crystals. Christmas week, December 28, 2009 – A small group of persistent miners opened the seventh gem pocket of the Eureka tourmaline find on Plumbago Mountain, Newry, Maine. The owl blinked, seeing daylight, blue sky, and sun for the first time. Over 3,000 carats of blue tourmaline were found that day. The choicest piece was a 119.64 carat gem nodule of crystal clear blue tourmaline. We displayed this rare blue gem for two weeks in January before cutting began.

The Owl from the north wall was removed intact and is here in our store watching over its tourmaline, only now the tourmaline have been cut, polished, and set into pieces of fine jewelry.

The Owl has two large blue tourmaline eyes surrounded by two feather-white radiant crystals of cleavelandite. The head is owl brown lepidolite.

Even if you are just a little curious you should stop in to see the owl and its tourmaline. Historic finds of this magnitude seldom occur either here in Maine or anywhere in the world.

Do plan your end-of-summer visit to Portland to view this most intriguing collection of Eureka Blue tourmaline rings and necklaces.

Compass Rose

*The compass rose is a reminder
 ...we are not merely travelers
 but are the navigators of our destiny.*

The compass rose has appeared beautifully illustrated on maps since the 1300's. The term "rose" comes from the layered compass points resembling the petals of the well known flower.

Your Life,
Your Lifestyle
This is the ring you've been seeking.
Plan your visit now to Cross.

Cape Town

Spring merging into summer. Waterfront café. Paddle fans slowly turning overhead... relaxing into the sweet aroma of a Cuban cigar. Last day of a two week tour of South Africa's diamond and platinum mines.

She commented on the passing ship. I complimented her on her ring. She seemed pleased, explained it was a family heirloom, had been her grandmother's, and she loved it, it was simple... comfortable.

I told her I was a jeweler from America. Asked if I could make a ring like it. She said she would be honored to have her grandmother's ring in America. This is the ring seen that gentle spring day in South Africa.

Comfortable. Low profile.
Design can be worn all the time... for a lifetime,
then passed on to the next generation.
Your diamond or ours.

FOR LOVE OF BLUE

Cobalt swept from an artist's palette,
Ripples of color, pure blue, brilliant,
A September sea and sky, cool and crisp,
Blue eyes, blue jeans, blue velvet, soft and warm,
Eternal color to calm and comfort.

We understand your love of blue. As jewelers we indulge our passion for blue in seeking the best of the best, blue sapphires. We spend weeks each year comparing, considering, to find the most perfect sapphires. Once chosen, we select high-white, precision-cut diamonds to complement. Our master jewelers then mount in platinum or gold.

The Sapphire Store
for all who love
the color blue.

MONHEGAN WAVES

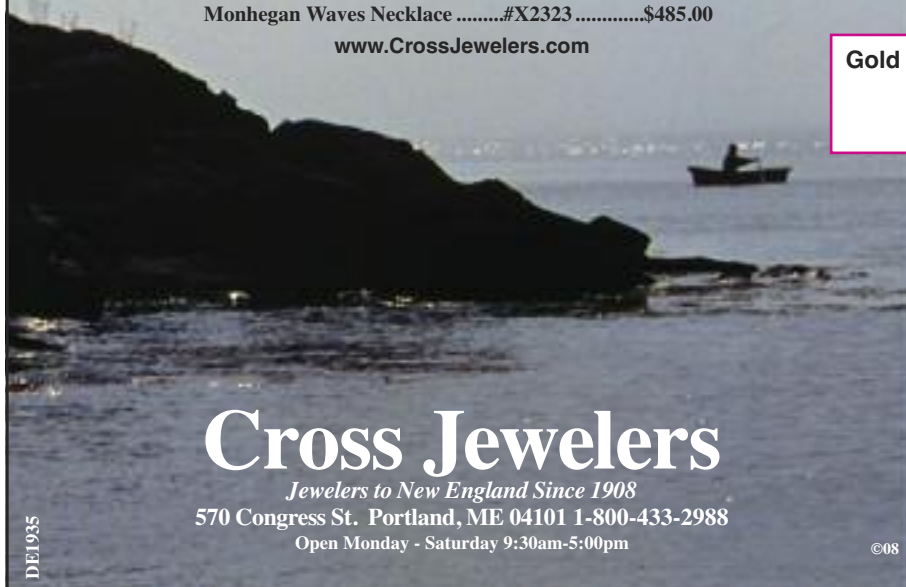

Simple Monhegan rock of wind and wave, time and tide. It is the very heart, essence, and soul of island. Monhegan is captured here in a cresting wave of gold at the moment of contact with island. This is Monhegan, to always be near, when you are away.

No two Monhegan rocks are ever the same. Two edges of each rock are polished smooth. All other surfaces are left natural. To see size, shape, and subtle color variations, select in person at our store or visit our website. 18" chain, 14K yellow gold.
